

VERDEVIN®

IGP VAL DE LOIRE

Naturally Low in Alcohol 8.5 %

Grapes :

Grolleau Gris and blend of disease-resistant grape

A wine with a naturally low alcohol content.
WITHOUT alcohol removal or deacidification. The choice of grape variety is important because Grolleau Gris results in a naturally low alcohol content.

Winemaking :

Rapid cold pressing and settling (4–5°C) for two weeks, with stirring of the lees every six hours to concentrate the aromatic potential.

Fermentation at a very low temperature (starting at 6°C, finishing at 11°C), with regular micro-oxygenation to minimise any reductive factors, thereby allowing the grape variety's aromas to express themselves with intensity

Tasting :

The result is incredible! A very fruity wine with intense aromas of white fruits, with notes of citrus and tropical fruits blending together. It is very well-balanced on the palate, and it is hard to believe that this wine has an alcohol content of just 8.5% Vol.
